

Statement explaining why a revised Regulatory Impact Statement is not required

A revised Regulatory Impact Statement is not required because the changes made to the last published rule do not necessitate revision to the previously published document. Only one change was made to the text and it is not substantial, does not change the meaning of any provision and therefore does not change any statements in the document. Specifically, the change clarifies that the decision as to the manner of conducting a meeting of the Board is at the discretion of the Chair.
