

Statement why a revised Regulatory Impact Statement is not required

A revised Regulatory Impact Statement is not required because the changes to the last published rule do not affect the meaning of any statements in the document.