	Old page 2/ New Page 7	Relative Value The Relative Value column lists the relative value units used to calculate the fee amount for a service. Except as otherwise provided in this schedule, the maximum fee amount is calculated by multiplying the relative value units by the applicable conversion factor. Conversion factors are listed later in this chapter. Relative values are used to calculate fees using the following formula: Relative Value x Applicable Conversion Factor = Fee For example, the fee for code 96110, performed by a psychologist in Region I or Region II, would be calculated as follows: 17.00 (Relative Value) x $7.94 (Psychology Conversion Factor for Region I and Region II) = $134.98 BR Some services do not have a relative value unit because they are too variable or new. These by report services are identified with a "BR."	Relative Value The Relative Value column lists the relative value units used to calculate the fee amount for a service. 	New Page 7		FUD The FUD column lists the follow-up days included in a surgical procedure's global charge. In counting follow-up days, day one is the day of surgery, not the discharge day. The State of New York has determined the number of follow-up days in this schedule and these follow-up days are consistent with those found in the Medicare Physician Fee Schedule. Follow-up days will be designated as 000 (0 follow-up days), 010 (10 follow-up days), or 090 (90 follow-up days). Medicare also uses letter designations to identify four circumstances where the usual follow-up days concept does not apply. These four circumstances are as follows: MMM Describes services in uncomplicated maternity care. This includes antepartum, delivery, and postpartum care. The usual global surgery concept does not apply. XXX YYY ZZZ Indicates that the global surgery concept does not apply. Indicates that the global period is to be established by report. Indicates that the service is an add-on service and, therefore, is treated in the global period of the primary procedure that is billed in conjunction with the ZZZ service. Do not bill these codes with modifier 51. Reimbursement should not be reduced.	added for consistency with other fee schedules

	1B	Biofeedback Biofeedback is a form of behavioral medicine that helps patients learn self-awareness and self-regulation skills for the purpose of gaining greater control of their physiology. Electronic instrumentation is used to monitor the targeted physiology and then displayed or fed back to the patient through visual, auditory or tactile means, with coaching by a biofeedback specialist. Treatment is individualized to the patient's work-related diagnosis and needs. Home practice of skills is required for mastery and may be facilitated by the use of home training tapes. The ultimate goal of biofeedback treatment is the transfer of learned skills to the workplace and daily life. Candidates for biofeedback therapy or training must be motivated to learn and practice biofeedback and self-regulation techniques. Biofeedback is not appropriate for individuals suffering from acute pain or acute injury. It may be appropriate for non-acute pain when combined with a program including functional restoration. • Time to Produce Effect: 3 to 4 sessions. • Frequency: 1 to 2 times per week. • Optimum Duration: 5 to 6 sessions. • Maximum Duration: 10 to 12 sessions. When more than one treatment is performed on the same day, the maximum reimbursement will be limited to the highest single relative value. 	2	Testing Psychological tests should not be used routinely. When appropriate, documentation should include the specific indication for each test and overlapping and/or duplicate testing should be avoided. Tests, when administered, must be used in correlation with clinical interview data to monitor a patient's condition and progress. Repeat testing is not necessary or indicated when the clinical documentation supports improved outcomes. Reimbursement for testing is limited to 11 hours of testing in any 12-month period.	Psychological, Behavioral, and Neuro-cognitive Testing Reimbursement for Psychological, Behavioral, and Neurocognitive testing is limited to 11 hours in any 12-month period. Ongoing documentation should include updates to treatment plans, efficacy of medications and/or treatments, and overall progress towards expected goals. Qualifications of the "technicians" and "qualified health care professionals" referenced in these procedure codes must satisfy the requirements as provided for in Article 153 of the State Education Law. 	3	Procedures Listed Without Specified Relative Value Units By report (BR) items: "BR" in the Relative Value column represents services that are too variable in the nature of their performance to permit assignment of relative value units. Fees for such procedures need to be justified "by report." Pertinent information concerning the nature, extent, and need for the procedure or service, the time, skill, and equipment necessary, etc., is to be furnished. A detailed clinical record is not necessary, but sufficient information shall be submitted to permit a sound evaluation. It must be emphasized that reviews are based on records; hence the importance of documentation. The original official record, such as the chart notes will be given far greater weight than supplementary reports formulated and submitted at later dates. For any procedure where the relative value unit is listed in the schedule as "BR," the authorized medical provider shall establish a relative value unit consistent in relativity with other unit values shown in the schedule. The insurer shall review all submitted "BR" relative value units to ensure that the relativity consistency is maintained. The general conditions and requirements of the General Ground Rules apply to all "BR" items.	Miscellaneous and By Report Codes 1. Providers should only use codes listed in the Fee Schedule. When billing a service or procedure, select the CPT code from the WCB Behavioral Health Fee schedule that accurately identifies the service or procedure performed. If no such code is available, report the service or procedure using the closest appropriate Miscellaneous code in the Fee Schedule (often ending in -99). These codes may also be titled "Unlisted," "Unspecified," or "Not Otherwise Specified". 2. By Report (BR) in the Relative Value (RVU) column represents services that too variable to permit assignment of RVUs. Fees for such procedures need to be justified with additional information. • The inclusion of a miscellaneous or by report code in this Fee Schedule does not guarantee reimbursement. All codes billed should be based on medical necessity and be in alignment with all applicable Medical Treatment Guidelines and Fee Schedule Ground Rules. Reimbursement may be dependent on multiple factors, including but not necessarily limited to, causal relationship, clinical necessity and appropriateness of the fees submitted. • It is the responsibility of the provider to ensure all information required to process a miscellaneous or by report procedure is included with the bill. If required information is missing, or if there is a valid code that describes the procedure, then the code may not be reimbursed. • Nearly all miscellaneous and by report codes, require prior authorization (PAR). If a procedure or item is not recommended or not addressed in an applicable WCB Medical Treatment Guideline (MTG), then prior authorization is always required. If the procedure or item involves a body part or condition for which there is no MTG and costs over $1,000 then prior authorization must be obtained. • While emergency procedures/items do not require prior authorization, the circumstances must be identified and explained in the procedure record. The codes billed may be subject to review and non-payment. • When a miscellaneous or by report code is used, the actual service/item should be identified on the bill, narrative note, and in an additional attached report. • The price billed must be substantiated by indicating the closest comparable code found in the current fee schedule and/or with a manufacturer's invoice. • Documentation should include: any decision making, medical necessity and explanation why an existing fee schedule code could not be used. • Any PARs including identification numbers should also be submitted with bills. • Miscellaneous and by report codes should not be billed merely to describe a proprietary product or procedure, when an existing fee schedule code adequately describes the procedure or item. • Surgical miscellaneous or by report codes may require additional documentation including: time, skill, equipment necessary, diagnosis, pertinent history, and physical findings, size/ location/number of lesions or procedures. 	4	Medical Testimony As provided in Part 301 of the Workers' Compensation regulations and following direction by the Board, whenever the attendance of the injured employee's treating or consultant authorized physician is required at a hearing or deposition, such physician shall be entitled to an attendance fee of $450. Fees for testimony shall be billed following a direction by the Board as to the fee amount using code 99075. As provided in Part 301 of the Workers' Compensation regulations and following direction by the Board, whenever the attendance of the injured employee's treating or consultant authorized psychologist, psychiatric nurse practitioner, or licensed clinical social worker is required at a hearing or deposition, such psychologist, nurse practitioner, or social worker shall be entitled to an attendance fee of $350. Fees for testimony shall be billed following a direction by the Board as to the fee amount using code 99075.	Attendance fees for depositions are handled in accordance with Part 301 of Title 12 NYCRR of the NYS Workers' Compensation regulations and information may also be found on the Board's website at wcb.ny.gov.	Fees and procedures for medical testimony are contained elsewhere in the regulations. The Board has removed the text about depositions, and instead kept only the reference to the relevant regulation to avoid future conflicts and to ensure that the fee schedules do not become out of sync with regulatory changes.

It is expected that the administration of these tests will generate material that will be formulated into a report.
